Gov. Olson Wins in Campaign at State Capitol

REMOVES TWO APPOINTEES NAMED BY CHRISTIANSON

N. J. HOLMBERG AND F. A. DUXBURY REMOVAL OCCURS LATE YESTERDAY

AFTER COMPROMISE AT CONFERENCE OF SENATE CONSERVATIVES AND GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson today submitted his first two appointments to the state senate for confirmation.

One was that of William D. Stewart, St. Paul, to be game and fish commissioner until January, 1933, while the second names Michael McConville to be municipal judge at North Mankato to fill an unexpired term. Both matters were laid over for one day by the senate.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson was credited today with a victory in his campaign to "clean up the state capitol" by removing two of the more important of the 122 appointees named by former Gov. Theodore Christianson on his last day in office.

Removal of the officials, N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture, and F. A. Duxbury, state industrial commissioner, was accomplished late yesterday after a compromise reached at a conference of senate conservative leaders and Governor Olson.

After the names of Holmberg and Duxbury had been removed, the list of 120 other Christianson appointments was confirmed with the exception of the state board of hair dressers and beauty culture examiners, the state board of electricity and the state office building commission.

The three groups not confirmed are not subject to senate jurisdiction, the senate rules committee said in the report upon which action was taken. Olson previously had demanded that the senate refuse to confirm all of the Christianson nominations.

The governor later took the stand, however, that if Holmberg's name was stricken from the list he would not oppose the other appointments. The office of commissioner of agriculture carries with it more patronage than the other offices.

Duxbury was removed from the list on the request of Senator Gerald T. Mullin of Minneapolis who objected to his confirmation in behalf of interests representing the state workmen's compensation committee, consideration of the Holmberg issue was recommended by the senate agricultural committee.

Both committees to which the Duxbury and Holmberg issues were given have farmer-laborite majorities and they had been expected to take adverse action on the appointments.

Heated debate had been expected at the senate session in which confirmation of the appointments was considered but the matter was closed with a minimum of discussion. Senator Harry A. Bridgman of Bemidji announced that a compromise had been made and the vote to remove Holmberg and Duxbury was unanimous.

Legislation expected to be undertaken in the current session, conservative leaders said today, will remedy the objections which Governor Olson has to members of the building commission being confirmed. The hair dressers and beauty culture examiners board are subject to removal at any time.

Members of the board of electricity can be removed at any time, under the present personnel of the board, it was pointed out. Under state law the board must be made up of two journeymen and two master electricians and none of the present members answers these qualifications, it was said.

WILLISTON GROCER SLUGGED BY 2 MEN

APPARENTLY INTENDED TO ROB JAKE CERSONSKY, WHO NOW LIES IN HOSPITAL

Williston, N. D., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Slugged by two men who apparently intended to rob him and his nine-year-old son, Jake Cersonsky, Williston grocer, was unconscious today in the hospital here.

Accompanied by his son, Cersonsky was going through a dark alley when two men stepped out and struck him down. The boy screamed. When neighbors began to appear, the attackers fled without having obtained any money.

Cersonsky got up apparently unharmed. After calling police from his garage two blocks away, the grocer collapsed and had not regained consciousness today. Physicians believed the collapse might be due to a heart ailment and nervous condition rather than injuries.

8 MEMBERS OF A FAMILY VICTIMS OF HOME FIRE

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—With eight members of the family of Clyde Smith, Powys, near here, victims of the fire which swept the family home, a ninth death was expected today because of the critical condition of Mahlon Smith, 18 months, youngest of the family.

Burns received in the fire caused the death here last night of the mother, Mrs. Clyde Smith, 38. The father, Clyde Smith, and six other children perished during the fire. The tenth member of the family, Howard, 9, escaped with slight burns.

STATE'S JANUARY SUMMER IS TO KEEP RIGHT ON

BUT HEAVY SNOWS MAY FALL BEFORE SPRING FINALLY ARRIVES

SNOW WOULD PROVIDE MUCH NEEDED MOISTURE FOR CROPS AND PASTURES

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Minnesota's "January summer" will continue indefinitely, the United States weather bureau forecast today, and golfing may be good for some time.

There was a note of optimism in the forecast for farmers however, in the warning that heavy snows may fall before spring definitely arrives. The snow would provide much needed moisture for next year's crops and pastures.

Meanwhile, children were playing marbles today on the streets of many cities, ice skating rinks were pools of water and fountains were arranged on many golf courses. For one of the first time in history the upper Mississippi river is free from ice.

The unusually warm weather, forecasters said, is due to last summer's drought and "stagnation of high and low pressure areas."

Among yesterday's high temperatures were 46 in St. Paul, a 60-year record, 55 in Albert Lea and 53 in Austin.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—A January "heat" wave continued throughout the western half of the country today, causing mild alarm in some states and merriment in others, especially in the Cities.

With the exception of New England, where it was "normally cold," temperatures throughout the country were unusually high and had been that way for days.

As a result, violets and roses blossomed in Oklahoma, the bears refused to hibernate in Glacier National Park, the first January grass fire in history was recorded at St. Paul, dandelions bloomed in Iowa and ducks and geese were flying northward along the Mississippi river.

At Gunnison, Colo., a lake that is fed by glaciers was frozen over, but the air was so warm that co-eds of Western State Normal school went skating in bathing tops.

The real "warm" belt extended from the Mississippi basin westward but even in New York, where it was said to be "normally cold," the maximum temperature on Wednesday was 43.

At Chicago, the maximum was 42. In the southern Illinois coal fields the situation was serious, not only because there was slight demand for coal and miners were out of work, but also because during the warm days there has been neither rain nor snow and the country was suffering for want of moisture. In one town, water was so scarce it was sold at 50 cents a tank and buyers were plentiful.

Benton, Harrisburg and West Frankfort were faced with the problem of having to import water within a week unless it rains. Five trucks were being used daily to haul water from Eldorado, Ill., to the Carrier Mills schools and homes.

Peach trees bloomed in some parts of Missouri and it was feared the entire year's fruit crop would be ruined when the inevitable winter begins.

At Memphis, Tenn., the city council announced that if the "hot" weather continued much longer the city swimming pool would be opened. The maximum there Wednesday was 66.

Some other maximum temperatures Wednesday were: St. Paul, 46; Boston, 36; Cleveland, 36; Kansas City, 60; Oklahoma City, 68; Little Rock, 60; St. Louis, 58; Denver, 58; Helena, 56; Boise, 46; and Peoria, 48.

At Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—A baby girl, Mary Eleanor Jones, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., here at 2 a. m. today.

Both the mother and the child were reported doing well.

Bobby's family now consists of Mary Eleanor, Mary Malone, 6, and Bobby, Jr., 4.

Citizens Break Into Schafer, N. D., Jail and Lynch Chas. Bannon, Confessed Slayer of Six

ARRIVE AT JAIL IN 16 CARS AND 2 LARGE TRUCKS

LOAD BANNON ON TRUCK, TAKE HIM TO CHERRY CREEK BRIDGE

NOOSE AROUND NECK, END ATTACHED TO BRIDGE RAILING, THEN PUSHED OFF

Schafer, N. D., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Enraged citizens broke into the Mackenzie county jail last night to obtain Charles Bannon, self-confessed slayer of the family of six persons who was to have gone on trial today, took him to the Cherry Creek bridge and lynched him.

The citizens came to the jail in sixteen automobiles and two trucks. They told Deputy Sheriff P. Hallam, who was on guard in the office that they had come for the keys of the jail so that they could lynch young Bannon. The deputy sheriff refused.

"We'll get him anyway," the group shouted in defiance.

Hallam was unable to notify outside officials to call for help because the telephone line going out of Schafer had been cut. The group then gathered logs which were near the jail, broke down the door and into Bannon's cell. Bannon was in the first of the four cells of the jail.

While the citizens were dragging him from his cell, young Bannon pleaded "Save my dad. He's not guilty." His father who was suspected of helping young Bannon in killing the Haven family was held in the jail along with another convict by the name of Mathes.

Young Bannon was loaded on a truck and taken to the Cherry Creek bridge, east of Schafer. A slip knot was adjusted around his neck. The other end of the rope was attached to the bridge railing and he was pushed over.

Sheriff Thompson who was at the jail home heard the commotion at the jail and hurried there in his car. He found the deputy sheriff pushed in a corner and guarded by a group of the lynchers. They told him what had happened and he set out for Watford City for aid in his automobile.

Coroner Harry Larson and other Watford City officials hurried to Schafer but the crowd had dispersed. None of the members of the lynching party was recognized but officials were questioning the elder Bannon and Mathes to see if they could add any details.

Bannon confessed that he had killed the Haven family by luring them to the barn on their farm last February and hitting them over the head with an axe. He said he had an argument with the father and after slaying him, then killed the other Havens when they came to the barn to investigate.

It was not until months after the killings that Bannon announced he knew the family which had mysteriously disappeared had been slain. He was on trial for embezzling products from the Haven farm when suddenly he announced the family had been slain and their bodies chucked under the barn.

Authorities from Watford City dug into the farm yard and removed the floor of the barn and found the six mangled and decomposed bodies.

Bannon was accused of the slayings

FLOWERS' FRIENDS VISIT GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Removal of H. H. Flowers as secretary of the state rural credits bureau would cripple the bureau's functions, bring a hardship on farmers and place agriculture at a standstill, Gov. Floyd B. Olson has been informed by a delegation of farmers and bankers.

The delegation, consisting of Percy Lewis, Maclella banker, and August Saggau, former Martin county senator, called on the governor and asked retention of Mr. Flowers.

They charged that his removal would tie up $5,000,000 worth of loans now pending and would "be nothing short of a calamity."

LONG SUSPECTED RUM RUNNER IS CAPTURED

New London, Conn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—The speedboat Cindelella, long on the coast guard's "suspicious list," was captured early today with a cargo of 400 cases of liquor south of Montauk Point, L. I., according to announcement at the coast guard base here.

and finally confessed that he alone was guilty. Previously he implicated a mythical stranger whose name he said he did not know.

The older Bannon was arrested in Oregon and brought back to Williston for questioning. He maintained his innocence and his son cleared him in all his statements.

The pair were taken to Schafer where Bannon was to have had a hearing Friday on the murder charges. He had been expected to plead guilty.

At the time of his confession to the killings and at previous court proceedings, extra precautions had been taken so that no mob violence injured him. Citizens were enraged at the wholesale killing of the entire Haven family, which was highly regarded in the community.

RAMSAY MAC DONALD REGIME IS NOW ON A WAVE OF OPTIMISM

APPARENTLY HAD BEEN NEAR FAILURE SEVERAL TIMES DURING EXISTENCE

TODAY WAS BACKED BY MAJORITY OF 27 VOTES IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

By KEITH JONES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Jan. 29.—The laborite government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, apparently near failure several times during its uncertain existence, rode on a wave of unusual optimism today, backed by a majority of 27 votes in the house of commons.

The majority was obtained on the second reading of the trades disputes bill, approved by the house by a vote of 277 to 250. Many political observers predicted that the government would be ousted on the vote, while laborite leaders had expected to squeeze through by the narrowest of majorities.

Labor's majority was due to the abstention of most of the liberals, which was expected, and the absence of several conservatives, which was unexpected. Colds, gripple and influenza kept numerous conservatives away from the session and added to the favorable vote for the government.

Politicians expected that the bill would be subjected to extensive amendments by liberals during the committee stage, and might emerge very much emasculated. The government was expected to accept the amendments and let trade unionists salvage as much as possible from the measure.

The government's victory did not discourage the conservatives from further attacks, for the opposition submitted a vote of censure immediately. It was based on the government's policy of continuous additions to public expenditure at a time when the strictest economy is necessary to restore confidence and promote employment.

The motion will probably be debated next week.

An analysis of the ballot revealed that 241 conservatives and nine liberals, the latter led by Sir John Simon, voted against the government; 275 laborites, one liberal and one independent conservative supported the administration. David Lloyd George, Sir Herbert Samuel and the remainder of the liberals abstained from voting.

Winston Churchill, the conservative leader, who was rebuked by Stanley Baldwin for his recent attack upon the accomplishments of the Indian round table conference, suffered no restraint when he began bitter criticism against the trades dispute bill. The bill would legalize general strikes, Churchill said, and was bound to cause trouble.

Sir Stafford Cripps, the solicitor-general, replied for the government. The bill was designed solely to remedy alleged injustices in the 1927 trades disputes act passed by the conservatives, he said. Continued repression of trade unionists under restrictions of the old bill, he added, was more likely to bring trouble than the provisions of the new act. Sir Stafford said.

The decision to court-martial General Butler was announced by Secretary Adams in a one-sentence statement which said:

"I have today ordered a general court-martial for Major-General Smedley D. Butler."

The officers who will sit in judgment on General Butler will be chosen by General Fuller. It was said that three or four days would be required to set up the court martial machinery and begin the trial.

The high naval officials were in communication with General Butler at Quantico this morning during the conference which resulted in the court-martial order.

Butler, in placing himself under arrest, will in the ordinary navy procedure name a subordinate to take over command of his post, which is the marine base at Quantico. While under arrest he will have to confine himself to his station—meaning that he will not be allowed to leave the Quantico reservation except under orders—and he is not permitted to discuss his case publicly.

No high ranking officer of the army or navy has been called upon to face court-martial since 1925 when Col. William ("Billy") Mitchell of the army, was court-martialed on charges growing out of his attacks upon the air service. He was found guilty and has retired.

In a quarter of an hour after the announcement that Butler had been ordered court-martialed, Butler apparently had executed the order to place himself under arrest. He was in seclusion, would talk with no one, and orders were given at his office at Quantico that no one should discuss the matter or anything remotely pertaining to it with any civilian or other officer.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX RECEIPTS IN STATE DECLINING

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Federal income tax receipts from Minnesota in 1930 declined $4,329,317, L. M. Willcuts, internal revenue collector stationed in St. Paul, announced today.

The total of the tax paid in 1930 was $26,365,878 as compared to $30,695,195 for 1929.

The only reason Mr. Willcuts would give for the decrease was the cut in tax rate during 1929. The 1929 taxes were due Dec. 15, 1930.

Minnesota, in paying less income taxes, was consistent with the nation as a whole. During 1930 $2,332,968,393 in income taxes was collected in the United States, while in 1929 $2,562,805,757 was taken in.

GEN. SMEDLEY D. BUTLER ORDERED COURT-MARTIALED

ORDERED TO PLACE SELF UNDER ARREST AT MARINE CORPS, QUANTICO

COURTMARTIAL FOLLOWS COMPLAINT MADE BY ITALIAN AMBASSADOR

Washington, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Sec. of State Stimson today made formal apology to Italy for statements made by Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler regarding Premier Mussolini of Italy, in a speech at Philadelphia last week.

The apology was made two hours after Sec. of the Navy Adams had Gen. Butler, one of the most distinguished American marine corps officers, court-martialed.

Stimson personally made the formal expression of regret over the affair to Italian Ambassador Giacomo De Martino who called at the state department to receive the apology.

Stimson explained to De Martino that Butler's speech was an "unauthorized one," and informed the ambassador of the navy's action in ordering the general court-martialed.

The Italian ambassador immediately forwarded the apology to the Italian government.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Secretary of the Navy Adams today ordered a general court-martial for Gen. Smedley D. Butler.

Gen. Butler was directed by telephone to place himself under arrest at the marine corps camp at Quantico, Va., and to confine himself to the camp.

The court-martial order followed complaint by the Italian ambassador here against remarks on Premier Mussolini of Italy attributed to Butler, in a recent speech at Philadelphia.

Secretary Adams' decision to bring the distinguished marine corps officer before a court-martial was reached after a long conference this morning among Adams, Maj. Gen. Ben H. Fuller, commandant of the marine corps, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke and Admiral John Hallahan, assistant chief of naval operations.

The decision to court-martial General Butler was announced by Secretary Adams in a one-sentence statement which said:

LINTON COAL MINE IS SCENE OF THE DISASTER

GAS EXUDED FROM THE POROUS LIMESTONE FORMATION IN WORKINGS

SURVIVORS DESCRIBED THE EXPLOSION AS "BURNING CYCLONE"

By PAUL H. KARNES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Linton, Ind., Jan. 29.—Seven miners who had been given up as dead were found alive at dawn today in the Little Betty mine shaft, leaving 29 known dead from a blast which late yesterday wrecked the shaft.

The death toll was fixed in an official report from the mine after the body of Fred Reed, the last to be recovered, was removed. All who were in the shaft when the explosion occurred were killed save nine, of whom two walked out last night.

The other seven, caught deep in the earth, bratticed a small side-chamber, knowing their oxygen supply would last only a few hours. The air was becoming fouled when rescue squads cleared the entry this morning.

State and federal officials announced today after a brief survey of the situation that the explosion which rocked the mine and trapped the miners a mile back in the tunnel had been caused by gas.

They said a fall of slate had revealed the porous limestone formation from which the gas exuded.

Survivors described the explosion as a "burning cyclone," and said the charred condition of the bodies bore out their description.

It was impossible to make a positive identification of the 18 bodies that had been recovered, as they were burned almost beyond recognition.

"A flaming cyclone" was the description of the disaster given by Andrew Docherty, Paxton, Ind., leader of the first team to descend a mile below the surface for rescue work.

Docherty, hero of many mine rescues during his 37 years' experience in America and Scotland, told of the eagerness of fellow miners to risk their lives in the poisonous fumes of the mine.

Equipped with safety lamps which detect gas, the first crew felt its way cautiously through nearly a mile of mud and slime.

"Aside from a flickering of the lamps, due to carbon monoxide gas, there was nothing to show that anything had happened until we neared the seat of the explosion," he said.

"There we could see bodies all around on the mine floor."

"As we approached, our lights flickered violently and we retreated to the surface and made plans for restoring the ventilation system. It was several hours before we could reach the first bodies."

"We were sure they were dead, so we stacked them in piles and proceeded deeper."

"It was necessary several times to get tough with some of the younger members of the crew, trying to forge ahead. They were anxious to reach their buddies and did not seem to care about the danger of the deadly after damp."

"When we had stayed in the mine two hours, our heads throbbled and it was hard to breathe. We had no masks so we retired and another crew carried on."

"When I came out, Mrs. Letote hurried over, clutched my arm, and asked if I had seen her two sons. They were both down there, stretched in the mud, but I couldn't tell her. I brought out two other sons of hers a few years ago, after an explosion in Sullivan, Ind. Her husband got out alive this time."

"But all the danger doesn't bother us," Docherty added reflectively. "We'll be back at work tomorrow so we can help the families those poor fellows left behind."

a similar silence. Queries of even minor nature regarding the case had to be referred to Secretary Adams for answer.

Butler's trouble started last week when Premier Mussolini of Italy became incensed at reports that Butler had made derogatory statements regarding him in a speech before the Contemporary club at Philadelphia.

Butler was quoted as having said that a friend of his motored through Italy with Mussolini. The premier's car, according to the story, struck a child. Mussolini is alleged to have sped on, according to the quotations from Butler's account, saying that the life of the individual was a small matter compared to the life of the state.

The general also was quoted as having spoken of "mad dogs" running at large in Europe and of Mussolini as waiting to start another war.

The Italian embassy was cabled a denial by Mussolini and on Saturday it protested to the state department.

The state department called upon the navy for an explanation and Butler was requested to make a statement.

He delivered this statement to Secretary of the Navy Adams yesterday.

BABY GIRL ARRIVES AT HOME OF BOBBY JONES

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—A baby girl, Mary Eleanor Jones, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., here, at 2 a. m. today.

Both the mother and the child were reported doing well.

Citizens Break Into Schafer, N. D., Jail and Lynch Chas. Bannon, Confessed Slayer of Six

ARRIVE AT JAIL IN 16 CARS AND 2 LARGE TRUCKS

LOAD BANNON ON TRUCK, TAKE HIM TO CHERRY CREEK BRIDGE

NOOSE AROUND NECK, END ATTACHED TO BRIDGE RAILING, THEN PUSHED OFF

Schafer, N. D., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Enraged citizens broke into the Mackenzie county jail last night to obtain Charles Bannon, self-confessed slayer of the family of six persons who was to have gone on trial today, took him to the Cherry Creek bridge and lynched him.

The citizens came to the jail in sixteen automobiles and two trucks. They told Deputy Sheriff P. Hallam, who was on guard in the office that they had come for the keys of the jail so that they could lynch young Bannon. The deputy sheriff refused.

"We'll get him anyway," the group shouted in defiance.

Hallam was unable to notify outside officials to call for help because the telephone line going out of Schafer had been cut. The group then gathered logs which were near the jail, broke down the door and into Bannon's cell. Bannon was in the first of the four cells of the jail.

While the citizens were dragging him from his cell, young Bannon pleaded "Save my dad. He's not guilty." His father who was suspected of helping young Bannon in killing the Haven family was held in the jail along with another convict by the name of Mathes.

Young Bannon was loaded on a truck and taken to the Cherry Creek bridge, east of Schafer. A slip knot was adjusted around his neck. The other end of the rope was attached to the bridge railing and he was pushed over.

Sheriff Thompson who was at his home heard the commotion at the jail and hurried there in his car. He found the deputy sheriff pushed in a corner and guarded by a group of the lynchers. They told him what had happened and he set out for Watford City for aid in his automobile.

Coroner Harry Larson and other Watford City officials hurried to Schafer but the crowd had dispersed. None of the members of the lynching party was recognized but officials were questioning the elder Bannon and Mathes to see if they could aid any details.

Bannon confessed that he had killed the Haven family by luring them to the barn on their farm last February and hitting them over the head with an axe. He said he had an argument with the father and after slaying him, then killed the other Havens when they came to the barn to investigate.

It was not until months after the killings that Bannon announced he knew the family which had mysteriously disappeared had been slain. He was on trial for embezzling products from the Haven farm when suddenly he announced the family had been slain and their bodies chucked under the barn.

Authorities from Watford City dug into the farm yard and removed the floor of the barn and found the six mangled and decomposed bodies. Bannon was accused of the slayings

FLOWERS' FRIENDS VISIT GOVERNOR

SAY THAT HIS REMOVAL WILL CRIPPLE STATE RURAL CREDITS BUREAU

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Removal of H. H. Flowers as secretary of the state rural credits bureau would cripple the bureau's functions, bring a hardship on farmers and place agriculture at a standstill, Gov. Floyd B. Olson has been informed by a delegation of farmers and bankers.

The delegation, consisting of Percy Lewis, Madelia banker; Jacob Brogger, Butterfield banker; and August Saggau, former Martin county senator, called on the governor and asked retention of Mr. Flowers.

They charged that his removal would tie up $5,000,000 worth of loans now pending and would "be nothing short of a calamity."

LONG SUSPECTED RUM RUNNER IS CAPTURED

New London, Conn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—The speedboat Cindella, long on the coast guard's "suspected list," was captured early today with a cargo of 400 cases of liquor south of Montauk Point, L. I., according to announcement at the coast guard base here.

and finally confessed that he alone was guilty. Previously he implicated a mythical stranger whose name he said he did not know.

The older Bannon was arrested in Oregon and brought back to Williston for questioning. He maintained his innocence and his son cleared him in all his statements.

The pair were taken to Schafer where Bannon was to have had a hearing Friday on the murder charges. He had been expected to plead guilty.

At the time of his confession to the killings and at previous court proceedings, extra precautions had been taken so that no mob violence injured him. Citizens were enraged at the wholesale killing of the entire Haven family, which was highly regarded in the community.

RAMSAY MAC DONALD REGIME IS NOW ON A WAVE OF OPTIMISM

APPARENTLY HAD BEEN NEAR FAILURE SEVERAL TIMES DURING EXISTENCE

TODAY WAS BACKED BY MAJORITY OF 27 VOTES IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

By KEITH JONES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Jan. 29.—The laborite government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, apparently near failure several times during its uncertain existence, rode on a wave of unusual optimism today, backed by a majority of 27 votes in the house of commons.

The majority was obtained on the second reading of the trades disputes bill, approved by the house by a vote of 277 to 250. Many political observers predicted that the government would be ousted on the vote, while laborite leaders had expected to squeeze through by the narrowest of majorities.

Labor's majority was due to the abstention of most of the liberals, which was expected, and the absence of several conservatives, which was unexpected. Colds, gripe and influenza kept numerous conservatives away from the session and added to the favorable vote for the government.

Politicians expected that the bill would be subjected to extensive amendments by liberals during the committee stage, and might emerge very much emasculated. The government was expected to accept the amendments and let trade unionists salvage as much as possible from the measure.

The government's victory did not discourage the conservatives from further attacks, for the opposition submitted a vote of censure immediately.

It was based on the government's policy of continuous additions to public expenditure at a time when the strictest economy is necessary to restore confidence and promote employment.

The motion will probably be debated next week.

An analysis of the ballot revealed that 241 conservatives and nine liberals, the latter led by Sir John Simon, voted against the government; 275 laborites, one liberal and one independent conservative supported the administration. David Lloyd George, Sir Herbert Samuel and the remainder of the liberals abstained from voting.

Winston Churchill, the conservative leader, who was rebuked by Stanley Baldwin for his recent attack upon the accomplishments of the Indian round table conference, suffered no restraint when he began bitter criticism against the trades dispute bill. The bill would legalize general strikes, Churchill said, and was bound to cause trouble.

Sir Stafford Cripps, the solicitor-general, replied for the government. The bill was designed solely to remedy alleged injustices in the 1927 trades disputes act passed by the conservatives, he said. Continued repression of trade unionists under restrictions of the old bill, he added, was more likely to bring trouble than the provisions of the new act, Sir Stafford said.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX RECEIPTS IN STATE DECLINING

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Federal income tax receipts from Minnesota in 1930 declined $4,329,317, L. M. Willcuts, internal revenue collector stationed in St. Paul, announced today.

The total of the tax paid in 1930 was $26,365,878 as compared to $30,695,195 for 1929.

The only reason Mr. Willcuts would give for the decrease was the cut in tax rate during 1929. The 1929 taxes were due Dec. 15, 1930.

Minnesota, in paying less income taxes, was consistent with the nation as a whole. During 1930 $2,332,968,393 in income taxes was collected in the United States, while in 1929 $2,502,805,757 was taken in.

GEN. SMEDLEY D. BUTLER ORDERED COURT MARTIALED

ORDERED TO PLACE SELF UNDER ARREST AT MARINE CORPS QUANTICO

COURTMARTIAL FOLLOWS COMPLAINT MADE BY ITALIAN AMBASSADOR

Washington, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Sec. of State Stimson today made formal apology to Italy for statements made by Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler regarding Premier Mussolini of Italy, in a speech at Philadelphia last week.

The apology was made two hours after Sec. of the Navy Adams had Gen. Butler, one of the most distinguished American marine corps officers, court martialed.

Stimson personally made the formal expression of regret over the affair to Italian Ambassador Giacomo De Martino who called at the state department to receive the apology.

Stimson explained to De Martino that Butler's speech was an "unauthorized one," and informed the ambassador of the navy's action in ordering the general court-martialed.

The Italian ambassador immediately forwarded the apology to the Italian government.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Secretary of the Navy Adams today ordered a general court-martial for Gen. Smedley D. Butler.

Gen. Butler was directed by telephone to place himself under arrest at the marine corps camp at Quantico, Va., and to confine himself to the camp.

The court-martial order followed complaint by the Italian ambassador here against remarks on Premier Mussolini of Italy attributed to Butler, in a recent speech at Philadelphia.

Secretary Adams' decision to bring the distinguished marine corps officer before a court-martial was reached after a long conference this morning among Adams, Maj. Gen. Ben H. Fuller, commandant of the marine corps, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke and Admiral John Hallahan, assistant chief of naval operations.

The decision to court-martial General Butler was announced by Secretary Adams in a one-sentence statement which said:

"I have today ordered a general court-martial for Major-General Smedley D. Butler."

The officers who will sit in judgment on General Butler will be chosen by General Fuller. It was said that three or four days would be required to set up the court martial machinery and begin the trial.

The high naval officials were in communication with General Butler at Quantico this morning during the conference which resulted in the court-martial order.

Butler, in placing himself under arrest, will in the ordinary navy procedure name a subordinate to take over command of his post, which is the marine base at Quantico. While under arrest he will have to confine himself to his station—meaning that he will not be allowed to leave the Quantico reservation except under orders—and he is not permitted to discuss his case publicly.

No high ranking officer of the army or navy has been called upon to face court-martial since 1925 when Col. William ("Billy") Mitchell of the army, was court-martialed on charges growing out of his attacks upon the air service. He was found guilty and has retired.

In a quarter of an hour after the announcement that Butler had been ordered court-martialed, Butler apparently had executed the order to place himself under arrest. He was in seclusion, would talk with no one, and orders were given at his office at Quantico that no one should discuss the matter or anything remotely pertaining to it with any civilian or other officer.

At the navy department there was a similar silence. Queries of even minor nature regarding the case had to be referred to Secretary Adams for answer.

LINTON COAL MINE IS SCENE OF THE DISASTER

GAS EXUDED FROM THE POROUS LIMESTONE FORMATION IN WORKINGS

SURVIVORS DESCRIBED THE EXPLOSION AS "BURNING CYCLONE"

By Paul H. KARNES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Linton, Ind., Jan. 29.—Seven miners who had been given up as dead were found alive at dawn today in the Little Betty mine shaft, leaving 29 known dead from a blast which late yesterday wrecked the shaft.

The death toll was fixed in an official report from the mine after the body of Fred Reed, the last to be recovered, was removed. All who were in the shaft when the explosion occurred were killed save nine, of whom two walked out last night.

The other seven, caught deep in the earth, bratticed a small side-chamber, knowing their oxygen supply would last only a few hours. The air was becoming fouled when rescue squads cleared the entry this morning.

State and federal officials announced today after a brief survey of the situation that the explosion which rocked the mine and trapped the miners a mile back in the tunnel had been caused by gas.

They said a fall of slate had revealed the porous limestone formation from which the gas exuded.

Survivors described the explosion as a "burning cyclone," and said the charred condition of the bodies bore out their description.

It was impossible to make a positive identification of the 18 bodies that had been recovered, as they were burned almost beyond recognition.

"A flaming cyclone" was the description of the disaster given by Andrew Docherty, Paxton, Ind., leader of the first team to descend a mile below the surface for rescue work.

Docherty, hero of many mine rescues during his 37 years' experience in America and Scotland, told of the eagerness of fellow miners to risk their lives in the poisonous fumes of the mine.

Equipped with safety lamps which detect gas, the first crew felt its way cautiously through nearly a mile of mud and slime.

"Aside from a flickering of the lamps, due to carbon monoxide gas, there was nothing to show that anything had happened until we neared the seat of the explosion," he said.

"There we could see bodies all around on the mine floor."

"As we approached, our lights flickered violently and we retreated to the surface and made plans for restoring the ventilation system. It was several hours before we could reach the first bodies."

"We were sure they were dead, so we stacked them in piles and proceeded deeper."

"It was necessary several times to get tough with some of the younger members of the crew, trying to forge ahead. They were anxious to reach their buddies and did not seem to care about the danger of the deadly after damp."

"When we had stayed in the mine two hours, our heads throbbed and it was hard to breathe. We had no masks so we retired and another crew carried on."

"When I came out, Mrs. Letote hurried over, clutching my arm, and asked if I had seen her two sons. They were both down there, stretched in the mud, but I couldn't tell her. I brought out two other sons of hers a few years ago, after an explosion in Sullivan, Ind. Her husband got out alive this time."

"But all the danger doesn't bother us," Docherty added reflectively. "We'll be back at work tomorrow so we can help the families those poor fellows left behind."

a similar silence. Queries of even minor nature regarding the case had to be referred to Secretary Adams for answer.

Butler's trouble started last week when Premier Mussolini of Italy became incensed at reports that Butler had made derogatory statements regarding him in a speech before the Contemporary club at Philadelphia. Butler was quoted as having said that a friend of his motored through Italy with Mussolini.

The premier's car, according to the story, struck a child. Mussolini is alleged to have sped on, according to the quotations from Butler's account, saying that the life of the individual was a small matter compared to the life of the state.

The general also was quoted as having spoken of "mad dogs" running at large in Europe and of Mussolini as waiting to start another war.

The Italian embassy was cabled a denial by Mussolini and on Saturday it protested to the state department. The state department called upon the navy for an explanation and Butler was requested to make a statement. He delivered this statement to Secretary of the Navy Adams yesterday.

SERIOUS PROBLEMS
AT 5 PROMINENT
MIDWEST SCHOOLS

INDIANA UNIVERSITY FINDS
IN CONTROVERSY

IOWA'S INVESTIGATION AND SUBSEQUENT SUSPENSION STIRS COLLEGE

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Things were far from being all quiet on the western front of football today. Instead of experiencing its customary seasonable apathy, broken only by attacks of reformers, football is furnishing serious problems at five prominent midwestern schools.

Indiana University is the scene of a bitter controversy between H. P. (Pat) Page, former head football coach, and the athletic board of control. Page, who was forced to resign, claims his contract has another year to run and is threatening to sue the university for $16,750 in payment of his contract.

School officials deny Page's claim and have named a new head coach. They say Page worked under an annual contract and refuse to pay the $12,500 which Page claims is due him for the 1931 season. The situation is complicated by an alleged dual contract which provided that part of Page's salary was to be paid by the alumni group which forced the coach's retirement.

Rumors that the alumni "slush fund" also was used to attract athletes to Indiana, may result in a complete western conference investigation of conditions, similar to that of two years ago at Iowa.

Iowa's investigation and subsequent suspension from conference athletics now promises further difficulties for the Hawkeye institution. Charges printed by the Cedar Rapids Gazette that University President Walter Jessup was responsible for Iowa's "slush fund" have been presented to the state legislature and a legislative investigation of the conduct of the university is in prospect.

Marquette University entered the football warfare yesterday with Coach Frank J. Murray's statement that officials of the United States military academy at West Point had attempted to "recruit" Marquette football players. Murray said he had been approached by Army scouts last fall and urged to influence Francis Deig, Marquette fullback, to seek appointment to West Point.

"The chief spokesman, a former football player, intimated," said Murray, "that the plebe class of football players was none too promising and that as long as some colleges were busy rounding up football talent the academy had to do the same."

Two other universities—Wisconsin and Ohio State—are engaged in de-

and student attacks. Reappointment of Glen Thistlethwaite has the support of the student body and university officials but the alumni group is dissatisfied and is continuing sniping tactics.

Sam Williams, Ohio coach, was the target today of a bitter attack in the outlaw student publication, The Free Voice. The article charged Williams with "boasting that winning games and not character building was his program," with "basking in the fame of men who would have been famous without his help" and with making "lavish promises to gullible youngsters." "He is willing," the article said, "to take advantage of accidents that resulted in an apparently successful football season and cling to a job that a good many thousands join The Free Voice in wishing he would vacate."

SERIOUS PROBLEMS
AT 5 PROMINENT
MIDWEST SCHOOLS

IN CONTROVERSY

IOWA'S INVESTIGATION AND SUBSEQUENT SUSPENSION STIRS COLLEGE

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Things were far from being all quiet on the western front of football today. Instead of experiencing its customary seasonable apathy, broken only by attacks of reformers, football is furnishing serious problems at five prominent midwestern schools.

Indiana University is the scene of a bitter controversy between H. P. (Pat) Page, former head football coach, and the athletic board of control. Page, who was forced to resign, claims his contract has another year to run and is threatening to sue the university for $16,750 in payment of his contract. School officials deny Page's claim and have named a new head coach. They say Page worked under an annual contract and refuse to pay the $12,500 which Page claims is due him for the 1931 season. The situation is complicated by an alleged dual contract which provided that part of Page's salary was to be paid by the alumni group which forced the coach's retirement.

Rumors that the alumni "slush fund" also was used to attract athletes to Indiana, may result in a complete western conference investigation of conditions, similar to that of two years ago at Iowa.

Iowa's investigation and subsequent suspension from conference athletics now promises further difficulties for the Hawkeye institution. Charges printed by the Cedar Rapids Gazette that University President Walter Jessup was responsible for Iowa's "slush fund" have been presented to the state legislature and a legislative investigation of the conduct of the university is in prospect.

Marquette University entered the football warfare yesterday with Coach Frank J. Murray's statement that officials of the United States military academy at West Point had attempted to "recruit" Marquette football players. Murray said he had been approached by Army scouts last fall and urged to influence Francis Deig, Marquette fullback, to seek appointment to West Point.

"The chief spokesman, a former football player, intimated," said Murray, "that the plebe class of football players was none too promising and that as long as some colleges were busy rounding up football talent the academy had to do the same."

Two other universities—Wisconsin and Ohio State—are engaged in de-

and student attacks. Reappointment of Glen Thistlethwaite has the support of the student body and university officials but the alumni group is dissatisfied and is continuing sniping tactics.

Sam Willaman, Ohio coach, was the target today of a bitter attack in the outlaw student publication, The Free Voice. The article charged Willaman with "boasting that winning games and not character building was his program," with "basking in the fame of men who would have been famous without his help" and with making "lavish promises to gullible youngsters." "He is willing," the article said, "to take advantage of accidents that resulted in an apparently successful football season and cling to a job that a good many thousands join The Free Voice in wishing he would vacate."

Lynching in North Dakota

THE lynching of a farm hand in North Dakota is a blot on the name of the state. The whole thing is almost unbelievable. Less than 36 hours before Charles Bannon, who had confessed to slaying of six members of one family, was to have pleaded guilty to the crime, he was lynched by a group of enraged citizens, at Schafer.

There is never an excuse for a lynching. The regularly constituted authorities and courts are here to cope with crime and the latter to mete out punishment. Bannon was scheduled to have pleaded guilty Friday morning at Schafer.

However there seem to be times when public feeling is at white heat, when a few leaders may inflame a mob and when mob psychology rules all constituted authority is forgotten. Duluth had a taste of it. Brainerd in pioneer days witnessed the hanging of two Indians by a mob which gathered on West Front street. An Ohio mob, only recently, burned a negro at the very school house where he was alleged to have committed a crime.

It seems that the lynching area of the United States is spreading and no more may the north east aspersions on southern lynchings.

Piles No More

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause.

The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of Piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. H. P. Dunn or Johnson's Pharmacy will supply you and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.

Piles No More

How to End Terrible Agony
Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause.

The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 999 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. H. P. Dunn or Johnson's Pharmacy will supply you and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.

SUNSHINE MELLOWS Heat Purifies

are always kind to your throat

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

Everyone knows that sunshine melloWS—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING"—that extra, secret process—removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing.

SURPRISE QUINT INVADES B. H. S. DOMICILE FRIDAY

VISITORS HAVE A REPUTATION
FOR FACILITY OF SCORING
EARLY IN PLAY

LOCALS DRILL TO BREAK SLUMP:
TUMBLING ACT, FEP BAND
AT THE HALF

Brainerd high school's "Warriors" will have a battle on their hands tomorrow evening when they "entertain" Aitkin high school at basketball at the Washington high gym at 8:15 o'clock.

A game between the Aitkin Hi-Y and the Brainerd Hi-Y will precede the main event at 7 P. M.

Aitkin high will present a team that will force Brainerd to play its best basketball to win.

The visitors display flashy teamwork and a knack of grabbing an early lead. This happened in their game with Crosby-Ironton last Friday when the Rangers received the scare of the season by hanging on the short end of a 16 to 11 count at the half. Wocok had his first string team in from the start but could not fathom the offense of Aitkin nor break through their defense. Only by putting all his senses to work did Wocok and his men win in the second half by the count of 32 to 24.

If Brainerd fails to break the slump it has been in for the past two games, even though they won, Aitkin will win. B. H. S. must play fast, consistent basketball if they expect to win. Coach "Bill" Dammann has had his men in the traces every afternoon this week to get the best out of the team when the boys meet Aitkin.

Piper of the University of Minnesota has been secured to referee.

Parents of the members of the team have been invited as special guests.

Entertainment by the high school pep band under the leadership of Luther Ford, mathematics instructor, and a tumbling exhibition by high school boys under the direction of Ralph Squires, general science and physics instructor, is billed for the intermission at the half.

The evening is important to the success of the Brainerd high school this season.

BILLY PETROLLE KING TUT MATCH HAS CASH GUARANTEE

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Cashier's checks for $14,000 were deposited with the Minnesota state boxing commission today to bind the Billy Petrolle-King Tut match scheduled for Monday night.

Of the checks one was for $12,000 by Promoter Jerk Doran as Petrolle's guarantee and the other two were for $1,000 each by Petrolle and Tut as weight forfeits.

The advance sale indicates that Petrolle and Tut will fight before a $30,000 house.

Textile Workers Ballot on Returning to Work

Danville, Va., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—United Textile Workers of America who have been on strike here since September 29, 1930, balloted today on a proposal of their international vice president, Francis J. Gorman, to return to work in event officials of the Dan River and Riverside cotton mills recognize the union. Officials of the company twice have rejected proffered mediation.

NEW FIELD OF RESEARCH OPENED

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—A new field of research was opened today when Massachusetts Institute of Technology announced the invention of a new type of stroboscope, a device for "stopping" motion to study the behavior of machines operating at high speed.

Making photographic exposures at ten one-millionth of a second, the device, developed by Harold E. Edgerton of the M. I. T. research staff, permits "stop-motion" photography of moving machinery.

So powerful is the new stroboscope that still and motion pictures of a 160 horsepower motor have been made while the machine was at full speed.

Ask Murder Indictment Against Eddie Carnes

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—An indictment charging murder was asked of the Ramsey county grand jury today against Eddie Carnes, confessed killer of Tom (Crooked Nose) Melnick, Chicago gangster.

Among witnesses summoned were George Haddanek, cab driver who admitted taking Carnes, John McBride and John Cusick to the home of Reinhold Engel, and admitted seeing

Carnes kill Melnick. Carnes said Melnick had tried to "reach for his gun and I shot him in self-defense."

Melnick's bullet-riddled body was found in front of the Engel home on January 14.

Gandhi Visits Bedside of a Fellow Patriot

Allahabad, India, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—The Mahatma M. K. Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader recently released from prison, visited the bedside of his friend and fellow patriot, Pandit Motilal Nehru, here today. Nehru is seriously ill.

Motilal Nehru is the leader of the Swaraj or nationalist party and served a prison sentence for his activities as a chief of the all-India national congress.

GAMBLING RESORT HAD FORTIFIED RETREAT

Detroit, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Sheriff's forces today raided a gambling resort in the suburb of Dearborn not far from the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company and found a fortified retreat, lined with steel plates and fitted with portholes for observation and firing.

The fortified room was evidently the office of the resort. In it the officers found three revolvers, confiscated $2,412 in cash and arrested 17 men.

DAGGETT BROOK

Del and Fritz Hilderbrand, who have been visiting their father and brother Lester Hilderbrand left for Eagle Bend Monday to visit friends before returning to Bismarck, N. D.

August Kuschel sawed wood on Tuesday.

There was an accident at the junction of the county road between Platte Lake and Daggett Brook, and State Aid road No. 2, on Tuesday evening when a car went over the bank on the north side of the road, the driver having failed to see that he was at the end of the county road. Neither of the occupants of the car were believed to be seriously hurt. It's a wonder there are not more accidents at this corner as there is no warning at all that one is "at the end of the trail" when coming from the south and the rise to the state road makes it impossible to see far on the opposite side of the road.

Mrs. John Cronquist was in Brainerd Wednesday of last week to visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ringering visited with friends last Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richolson were in Brainerd last Monday.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe

VISITORS HAVE A REPUTATION
FOR FACULTY OF SCORING
EARLY IN PLAY

LOCALS DRILL TO BREAK SLUMP;
TUMBLING ACT, PEP BAND
AT THE HALF

Brainerd high school's "Warriors" will have a battle on their hands tomorrow evening when they "entertain" Aitkin high school at basketball at the Washington high gym at 8:15 o'clock.

A game between the Aitkin Hi-Y and the Brainerd Hi-Y will precede the main event at 7 P. M.

Aitkin high will present a team that will force Brainerd to play its best basketball to win.

The visitors display flashy teamwork and a knack of grabbing an early lead. This happened in their game with Crosby-Ironton last Friday when the Rangers received the scare of the season by hanging on the short end of a 16 to 11 count at the half. Wood had his first string team in from the start but could not fathom the offense of Aitkin nor break through their defense. Only by putting all his senses to work did Wood and his men win in the second half by the count of 32 to 24.

If Brainerd fails to break the slump it has been in for the past two games, even though they won, Aitkin will win. B. H. S. must play fast, consistent basketball if they expect to win. Coach "Bill" Dammann has had his men in the traces every afternoon this week to get the best out of the team when the boys meet Aitkin.

Piper of the University of Minnesota has been secured to referee.

Parents of the members of the team have been invited as special guests.

Entertainment by the high school pep band under the leadership of Luther Ford, mathematics instructor, and a tumbling exhibition by high school boys under the direction of Ralph Squires, general science and physics instructor, is billed for the intermission at the half.

The evening is important to the success of the Brainerd high school this season.

BILLY PETROLLE KING TUT MATCH HAS CASH GUARANTEE

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Cashier's checks for $14,000 were deposited with the Minnesota state boxing commission today to bind the Billy Petrolle-King Tut match scheduled for Monday night.

Of the checks one was for $12,000 by Promoter Jerk Doran as Petrolle's guarantee and the other two were for $1,000 each by Petrolle and Tut as weight forfeits. The advance sale indicates that Petrolle and Tut will fight before a $30,000 house.

Textile Workers Ballot on Returning to Work

Danville, Va., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—United Textile Workers of America who have been on strike here since September 29, 1930, balloted today on a proposal of their international vice president, Francis J. Gorman, to return to work in event officials of the Dan River and Riverside cotton mills recognize the union. Officials of the company twice have rejected proffered mediation.

NEW FIELD OF RESEARCH OPENED

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—A new field of research was opened today when Massachusetts Institute of Technology announced the invention of a new type of stroboscope, a device for "stopping" motion to study the behavior of machines operating at high speed.

Making photographic exposures at ten one-millionth of a second, the device, developed by Harold E. Edgerton of the M. I. T. research staff, permits "stop-motion" photography of moving machinery.

So powerful is the new stroboscope that still and motion pictures of a 160 horsepower motor have been made while the machine was at full speed.

Ask Murder Indictment Against Eddie Carnes

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—An indictment charging murder was asked of the Ramsey county grand jury today against Eddie Carnes, confessed killer of Tom (Crooked Nose) Melnick, Chicago gangster.

Among witnesses summoned were George Haddanek, cab driver who admitted taking Carnes, John McBride and John Cusick to the home of Reinhold Engel, and admitted seeing

Carnes kill Melnick. Carnes said Melnick had tried to "reach for his gun and I shot him in self-defense."

Gandhi Visits Bedside

Allahabad, India, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—The Mahatma M. K. Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader recently released from prison, visited the bedside of his friend and fellow patriot, Pandit Motilal Nehru, here today. Nehru is seriously ill.

GAMBLING RESORT HAD FORTIFIED RETREAT

Detroit, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—Sheriff's forces today raided a gambling resort in the suburb of Dearborn not far from the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company and found a fortified retreat, lined with steel plates and fitted with portholes for observation and firing.

The fortified room was evidently the office of the resort. In it the officers found three revolvers, confiscated $2,412 in cash and arrested 17 men.

DAGGETT BROOK

Del and Fritz Hilderbrand, who have been visiting their father and brother Lester Hilderbrand left for Eagle Bend Monday to visit friends before returning to Bismarck, N. D.

August Kuschel sawed wood on Tuesday.

There was an accident at the junction of the county road between Platte Lake and Daggett Brook, and State Aid road No. 2, on Tuesday evening when a car went over the bank on the north side of the road, the driver having failed to see that he was at the end of the county road. Neither of the occupants of the car were believed to be seriously hurt. It's a wonder there are not more accidents at this corner as there is no warning at all that one is "at the end of the trail" when coming from the south and the rise to the state road makes it impossible to see far on the opposite side of the road.

Mrs. John Cronquist was in Brainerd Wednesday of last week to visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ringering visited with friends last Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richolson were in Brainerd last Monday.

BEAVER SLAYERS CONFESS THEFT

Officials Report Foster and Keller Admit Killing Beaver, Stealing Them

TAKEN TO WALKER JAIL

Investigation Continues to Determine Buyer of Furs in Canadian Market

Cass county authorities took back with them to Walker this morning Edward Foster of Rice and Russell Keller of Merrifield after the pair had confessed the killing of 15 beaver and the theft of 14 of them from the American Beaver Ranch near Pillager one month ago, according to officials here.

The pair were griled by Ed. Rogers, county attorney of Cass county who is reported to have secured the confessions. Both were lodged in the county jail at Walker to answer charges brought by George Ramsey, proprietor of the ranch, who was sworn in as a deputy sheriff of Cass county to track down those who eluded to death at night the beaver and stole them.

Crow Wing county officials under Sheriff Frank Little and Deputy Sheriff Fred Reid assisted in the search.

An investigation is now being conducted to determine the dealer in Canada who purchased the hides.

The beaver killed were used at the ranch for breeding purposes.

COMES TO COMPLAIN, IS JAILED AS A DRUNK

St. Paul Man Refused Place on Bus, Appeals to Chief; Fined $10

The Chief of Police is a good person to complain to—sometimes. Refused a seat in a bus to St. Paul early last evening because he was too intoxicated, Frank Piringer, St. Paul pool room operator, went to police headquarters "to see whether you can keep me off this bus."

He went to headquarters to assert also that he was a citizen and he wanted to be treated as such.

"I wanta see the chief," Piringer persisted when Officer H. B. Sande asked him what he could do.

Chief Thomas Templeton came from his home.

"I want you to tell those birds down at the bus depot that I wanta go home. They can't refuse to carry me," the man spoke irately to the chief in a thick voice.

The chief took one look at the man, then told him he was too drunk to be on the streets or a bus and ordered him jailed to sober up.

This morning Piringer pleaded guilty in municipal court to intoxication and was fined $10 by Judge J. H. Warner. He said he had been at Mission Lake fishing before he was arrested.

BEAVER SLAYERS CONFESS THEFT

Officials Report Poster and Keller Admit Killing Beaver, Stealing Them

TAKEN TO WALKER JAIL

Investigation Continues to Determine Buyer of Furs in Canadian Market

Cass county authorities took back with them to Walker this morning, Edward Poster of Rice and Russell Keller of Merrifield after the pair had confessed the killing of 15 beaver and the theft of 14 of them from the American Beaver Ranch near Pillager one month ago, according to officials here.

The pair were grilled by Ed. Rogers, county attorney of Cass county who is reported to have secured the confessions. Both were lodged in the county jail at Walker to answer charges brought by George Ramsey, proprietor of the ranch, who was sworn in as a deputy sheriff of Cass county to track down those who eluded to death at night the beaver and stole them.

Crow Wing county officials under Sheriff Frank Little and Deputy Sheriff Fred Reid assisted in the search.

An investigation is now being conducted to determine the dealer in Canada who purchased the hides.

The beaver killed were used at the ranch for breeding purposes.

COMES TO COMPLAIN, IS JAILED AS A DRUNK

St. Paul Man Refused Place on Bus, Appeals to Chief; Fined $10

The Chief of Police is a good person to complain to—sometimes.

Refused a seat in a bus to St. Paul early last evening because he was too intoxicated, Frank Pflinger, St. Paul pool room operator, went to police headquarters "to see whether you can keep me off this bus."

He went to headquarters to assert also that he was a citizen and he wanted to be treated as such.

"I want to see the chief," Pflinger persisted when Officer H. B. Sande asked him what he could do.

Chief Thomas Templeton came from his home.

"I want you to tell those birds down at the bus depot that I want a go home. They can't refuse to carry me," the man spoke irately to the chief in a thick voice.

The chief took one look at the man, then told him he was too drunk to be on the streets or a bus and ordered him jailed to sober up.

This morning Pflinger pleaded guilty in municipal court to intoxication and was fined $10 by Judge J. H. Warner. He said he had been at Mission Lake fishing before he was arrested.
